

Jenison Psychological Services

Code of Ethics

Mission Statement

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, are dedicated professionals committed to providing quality mental health and substance abuse services. It is our overall goal to enhance the quality of life for individuals and families. Our belief is that all people are valuable and unique and should be treated with dignity and respect. While recognizing the potential for change, an assessment of the client's emotional, physical, spiritual, and life experience is provided in a caring environment. The growth of the individual is promoted through a course of treatment developed and executed in a timely and cost effective manner.

Ethical Stance

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, dedicate ourselves to serving the best interest of each client.

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, will not discriminate between clients or professionals based on culture, age, gender, socioeconomic status, language, disabilities, preferences, or other personal concerns.

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, maintain an objective and professional relationship with each client.

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, respect the rights and views of other mental health professionals.

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, will appropriately end services or refer clients to other programs when appropriate.

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, will evaluate our personal limitations, strengths, biases, and effectiveness on an ongoing basis for the purpose of self-improvement. We will continually attain further education and training.

We, at Jenison Psychological Services, hold respect for various institutional and managerial policies, but will help improve such policies if the best interest of the client is served. We pledge to uphold the ethical standards of the following: American Psychiatric Association, American Psychological Association, American Counselors Association, National Association of Social Worker, and any other Federal, State, or Local ethics law.

Updated June 2019

We, at Jenison Psychological Services wish to serve the best interest of our clients by providing the best possible clinician for the client's needs. We recognize that sometimes clients will need to change therapists to best meet those needs. If this becomes necessary, the client has the right to discuss his or her concerns with the therapist or with the Executive Director/Clinical Director, Leslie Johnsen, M.A., LLP to facilitate the transfer.
